

Candace Ward

Director of Global Strategic Partnerships | D3M Global

Candace Ward is a visionary leader in global business development and strategic partnerships, bringing extensive experience in forging high-impact collaborations across the healthcare, pharmaceutical, and life sciences industries. As the Director of Global Strategic Partnerships at D3M Global, Candace plays a crucial role in identifying and cultivating relationships that drive innovation, revenue growth, and market expansion.

With a strong background in international business, regulatory compliance, and emerging market development, Candace excels in connecting D3M Global with key stakeholders, including hospitals, clinics, pharmaceutical manufacturers, and government entities. She is instrumental in expanding access to cutting-edge pharmaceutical compounds, Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) solutions, and healthcare financial optimization programs, ensuring sustainable growth and competitive advantage.

Prior to joining D3M Global, Candace held leadership positions in Finances, Lending and Real Estate, where she led cross-border negotiations, structured multi-million-dollar partnerships, and facilitated regulatory approvals for innovative healthcare solutions. Her ability to navigate complex global markets and align strategic objectives with industry trends makes her a driving force in advancing D3M Global's mission.

Candace is deeply committed to transforming healthcare through strategic collaboration and innovative business models. Her leadership continues to position D3M Global as a trusted partner in the evolving global healthcare landscape.